

MoringaMyst Cellular Nutrition Blend

2025 Innovation & Discovery

Experience Next-Generation Moringa —
Designed for Rapid Delivery and Enhanced Bioavailability

Using industry standard and accepted practices to achieve a true nanosized Moringa solution, xosialX has brought to the consumer a truly unique moringa product. xosialX made the decision to be transparent with the size and distribution of the moringa in the MoringaMyst™ Product.

Below is the report on the product:

Using technology developed first by the pharmaceutical industry to increase the bioavailability of chemotherapy drugs to target the cells of interest, xosialX has brought decades of research and innovation to the market. Designed to be bioavailable and highly effective, this technology removes the barriers to the body being able to use everything this product has to offer.

Each particle of Moringa, sourced from India and certified California organic, is nanosized using standard techniques, reducing them to around 80 nanometers, then encapsulating them in Ultra-Pure lipids that are the keys to getting into the cells of the body. This combination ensures the cells of the body can absorb the Moringa easily based on industry studies that are easily researched at www.pubmed.gov.

18 Megaohm Ultra-Pure Water – The Purest Product Possible

Starting with 18 megaohm ultra-pure water and only using moringa with Ultra-Pure Lipids, xosialX delivers what we believe to be the purest product possible. The size of the moringa was chosen to deliver a complete whole moringa particle to the liver. Much smaller and you will “break” the molecule, and the body may not be able to use it.

Nano-Scale Size & Surface Area

The advantage of nanosizing the moringa is the increase in surface area. The cells of the body can't ingest macro particles. It must be small enough and have the correct chemical key to enter through the cell wall.

The surface area is important because the greater the surface area, the more cells can use the supplement. As an example, a typical nutrient is about 5 microns in size for most pills. Multiply by 1,000 and you have 5,000nm in diameter. We nanosized those 5,000nm particles down to 75nm-85nm particles. Theoretically, if we start with 100 particles inside the MoringaMyst 18ml bottle, after nanosizing those particles down to 75nm-85nm, it produces about 19,500 particles that your body can quickly and effectively use.

MoringaMyst Cellular Nutrition Blend

By increasing nutrient surface area through advanced delivery, MoringaMyst is designed to support efficient utilization by the body while minimizing the nutrient loss often associated with traditional oral supplements. MoringaMyst is paired with the Cellular Nutrition Blend, which provides a broad spectrum of nutrients to help maintain cellular balance after exposure to oxidative stress. Together, this combination offers comprehensive nutritional support to help cells function at their best.

Two Forces Meet: Van de Graff Meets Zeta Potential

There are two forces that must be balanced to have a stable nanosized formula. First, is the Van de Graaff force, and second is the zeta potential. One is the force that causes the particles to come together while the other is the force that keeps them separated. xosialX has achieved that balance between these two quantum forces to deliver a remarkable product.

Sourced From India. Certified Organic in California—Quality not Quantity

It is joked in the Western world that “more is better”. This is both dangerous and wasteful in the supplement industry. Many supplements have such large amounts to offset the reality that the majority turns into waste product that your body must deal with. MoringaMyst delivers a sensible amount of moringa that minimizes waste products in your body.

Used daily, MoringaMyst delivers dense, plant-based nutrition to support cellular health and vitality. Research indicates that moringa contains nutrients and phytonutrients associated with supporting bone, joint, and muscle health, while contributing to overall mobility and energy.

Research shows that moringa contains a unique blend of flavonoids, polyphenols, and isothiocyanates that provide powerful antioxidants and a healthy inflammatory response. These compounds are associated with promoting joint comfort, supporting muscle recovery, and contributing to overall vitality and resilience.

Moringa doesn't just nourish—it completes the circle. When paired with GlutaMyst Glutathione and XanthoMyst Plus, MoringaMyst creates a life-changing wellness system that fuels energy, resilience, and radiant health—helping you unlock a level of vitality and happiness once thought unimaginable.